Scud Attack Kills Local Man

— He was married only 2 days before leaving for Dahrán —

For the first time in history, we watched a war from our easy chairs, in front of our television sets. From start to finish, many people (including myself) were glued to the television during every free moment they had.

Never in history has a war of such magnitude lasted such a short time, or seen so few allies killed compared to the tens of thousands of enemy soldiers who died (mainly by air attack).

One of those few Americans who were killed was a Romulus man, and he, too, died in an air attack. He was not, however, the victim of an airplane bombing run; rather, he was killed by a Scud missile.

The Scud, as it is called, was produced by the Soviets, and its name, when translated into English, means "joke" (at least, that is what one source told me). Maybe so, but one family that isn't laughing is the family of Stanley Walter "Bart" Bartusiak, who was killed because he was at the wrong place at the wrong time, along with several others who were in the barracks where the single missile hit.

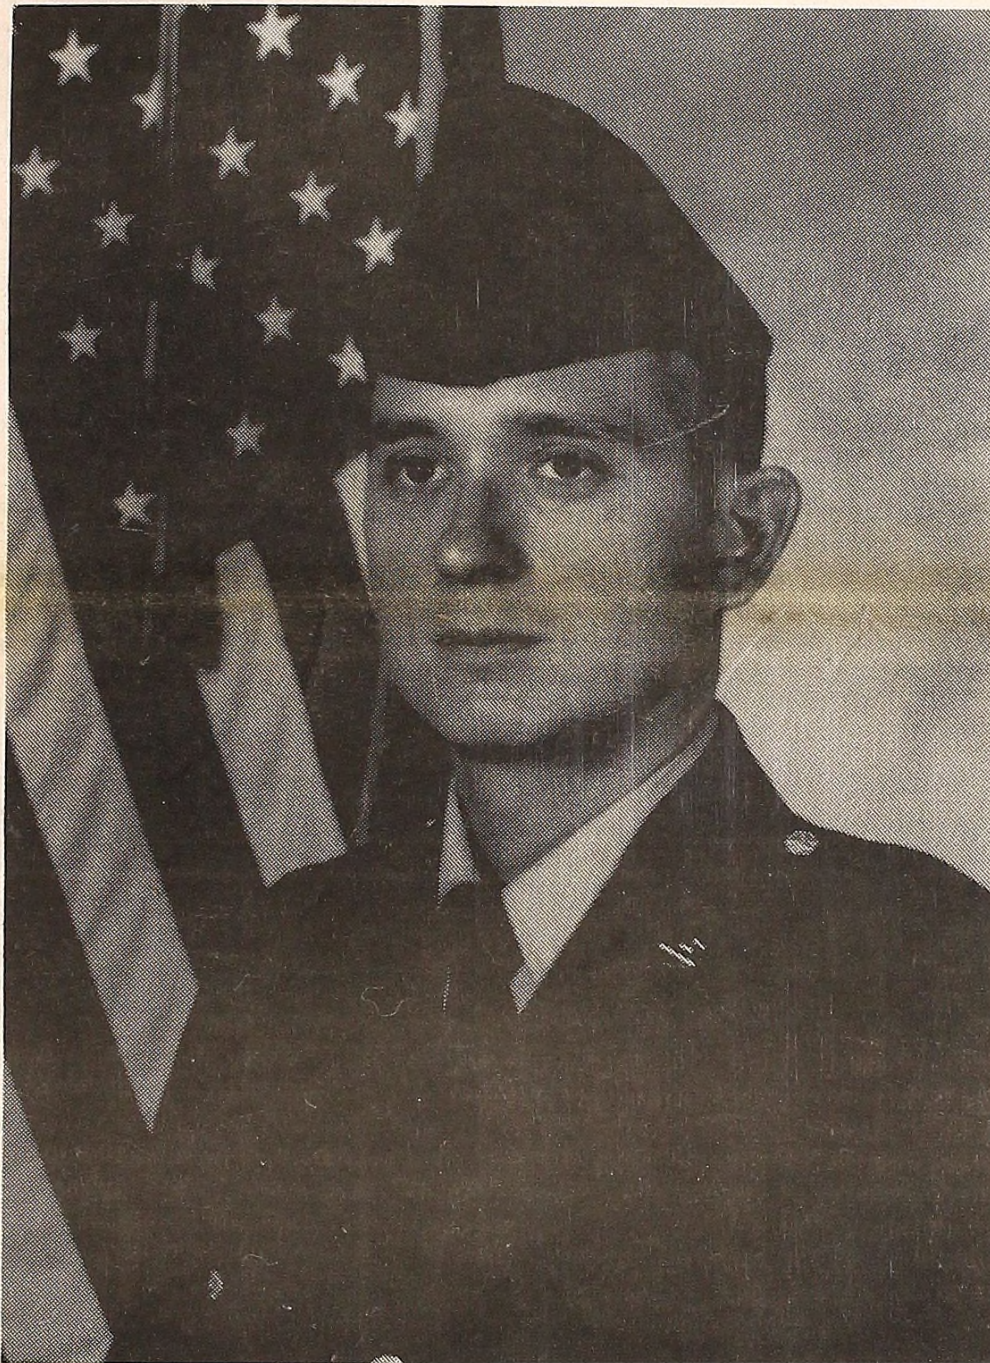

"Bart" Bartusiak, as many liked to call him, was on inactive duty (he had previously served six years of active duty in the United States Army) when he was notified to report for active duty within seven days of the notice.

Bart was originally from Calumet City, Illinois, but had lived in this area for quite some time, and it was here that he fell in love with Diana Lambert (no relation to City Councilman Russell Lambert).

When Bart received his notice to return to active duty, he and Diana decided to get married, and they did just that on January 28 of this year. Bart shipped out to Dharan, Saudi Arabia, only two days later (January 30), where he was awaiting assignment to a permanent unit. He had only been there a short six days when, on February 25, a stray Scud missile took his life and left his new bride a widow.

No, Bart was not a National hero; he was trained as a mechanic by the military and was simply doing what hundreds of thousands of other troops were doing: serving their country. Unfortunately, he didn't live long enough to do the job he was sent to do.

When Diana was first notified of her husband's death, she planned to have a memorial service for him in the clubhouse of the apartment complex where they had lived, but, before the planned date, Mayor Beverly McAnally offered the use of City Hall for the memorial, and the offer was accepted.

On March 3, approximately 200 or more people came to pay their respects to the family, including City Councilmen Russ Lambert, Ellis Pennington, Fred "Junior" Block, and Mayor Pro Tem Randy Gear (who was dressed in his military uniform), and newly appointed Romulus Deputy Police Chief David Early.

One member of the family said that she wanted to publicly thank Mayor McAnally; the Mayor's secretary, Betsey Brown; Julie A. Merritt of the Comfort Inn; and all those listed above.

As usual, there is always someone who makes a fool of himself and, in this case, the "fool" turned out to be a television reporter. All of the news media (us included) were asked not to take pictures after the ceremony began, and almost everyone there respected the family's wishes, but one reporter in particular rudely disregarded the family's request, and several of the mourners were insulted.

In my opinion, this was not the type of incident that anyone should have been using to try and improve their six o'clock news ratings with. It was a bad time for the Bartusiak family, and some respect should have been shown for their feelings.

"Bart" Bartusiak was 34; his wife is 22. He can't console her, and her grief (like that of anyone else who has been visited with such tragedy) will last for a long time to come.

I say: Bart did what he had to do and died because of it. I also say: leave his wife and family alone and let them live in as much peace as is possible in times like this. □

USO Collection: $1,351.41

By Dave Atkins

When you need something done, turn the job over to someone who really cares and hope they live in Romulus. Romulus is one of the best towns in the world for helping people in need, and its citizens have shown that once again.

Ron Brugger, the owner of Romulus Auto Supply, Romulus Video, and Romulus Tanning, got the idea of raising money to support the United Service Organization (USO) and some support group in Romulus or one that works with Romulus.

The final total was $1,351.41, and that amount will be split between the USO and a support group.

Brugger, who is constantly buying something to help kids or other organizations in Town, got the idea of putting American flags on five-gallon water bottles and putting those bottles in key locations throughout the City to try to collect money for the support of our troops in the Middle East and their families at home.

The ironic thing about the collection effort is that, although the amount collected in the time allotted was very good, Brugger could almost have donated that same amount because of the expense of setting up the program. He paid $4 per bottle, over a dollar each for the flags, and over $600 in advertising, and then donated an additional $200 after the bottles were picked up. (The actual amount that was collected was $1151.41.)

The people of Romulus, both residents and small-business people alike, have always reached out to help some-

Clerk Wants Lot Fee Raised

By Dave Atkins

At the last meeting of the Romulus City Council, City Clerk Linda Choate announced that she would like to see the cost of lots in the City's cemetery raised from $225 to $400, citing the excessively high cost of opening and closing a grave, along with the cost of caring for the cemetery, as the primary reasons for the increase.

Everything that Choate cited was reasonable, according to City Councilman Jimmie C. Raspberry, except for the cost of the cemetery's upkeep. He said that the cemetery has been there for many years, and that it doesn't cost any more to maintain an occupied lot than it does one that is not occupied. He and other members of the Council basically agreed that the cost of opening and closing graves was raising at an alarming rate, mainly because of the overtime paid to Department of Public Works (DPW) employees when someone must be buried on a Saturday or Sunday.

In a recent interview with Councilmen Raspberry and Ellis Pennington, Raspberry told me that, since people can't necessarily choose the day or time of their death, it really isn't their fault if they must be buried at a time when overtime must be paid to an employee. Pennington suggested that, if the opening and closing of a grave is getting that expensive, then someone should try to find out if, possibly, there aren't some kind of grants available to help take care of the added costs, since our cemetery is a historical site and should be treated as such.

I must agree with Raspberry: to raise the cost of a cemetery lot from $225 to $400 might stop some people from being able to purchase them. It seems to me that the cost of the grave should have nothing to do with the cost of the opening and closing of that grave. That should be taken care of through the deceased person's insurance, as are the vault and marker unless prior arrangements have been made for those items.

Choate said that we are running out of space in the cemetery, but it was also brought up that the City recently acquired an additional acre of land adjoining the present cemetery.

It is agreed that, unless we intend to bury people in an upright position (as was brought up several years ago), we are surely running out of space for graves. Of course, there is other land adjoining the cemetery that could be purchased, but I do not know what the cost of that land is.

Raising the price of lots in the City cemetery could be a bad move because of the income of many residents. On the other hand, other cemeteries are constantly raising the cost of their lots — but they are privately owned, not owned by the City.

It appears that further discussion is needed before any move on this matter takes place, and, to make sure that such discussion and research occurs, Councilman Pennington moved to table the issue for now, and the Council approved the motion.

It is my opinion that the Council, Clerk, and Mayor should give this matter an exceptional amount of thought before taking action, since their decision could cause a few (if not many) people even more hardship than they are already experiencing. □

"Sub King" Ties the Knot

By Dave Atkins

John Brimble, affectionately known around Romulus as the "King of the Subs," has gotten himself "hitched" (married, that is).

At 4 p.m. on March 2, 1991, the Reverend J. D. Landis of Community United Methodist Church pronounced John Brimble and Denise Zielinski "husband and wife."

Both John and Denise had been married previously, and both have children from those marriages. Denise is the mother of three: Christopher (age 15), Shannon (13), and Brian (nine). John has one daughter: Gwendolyn (age 11).

Over 60 people attended the wedding, and a little over 90 attended the reception, which was held at the Harbour Club in Belleville.

I spoke with John just as he and his new bride were getting ready to leave for Atlanta, Georgia (where they plan to honeymoon), and wished the two of them a very long and happy life together.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Brimble! □

St. Aloysius JV Tromps Moms

By Nancy Farmer, Public Relations Officer, St. Aloysius Parents Club

The boys on the St. Aloysius junior varsity basketball team challenged their moms to a game that was played on Thursday, February 21. The game started at 6:15 p.m., with the boys winning the jump and taking a big lead against the moms. By half time, the boys were ahead, 20-3. The game strategy for the moms was to pass the ball down-court and then score; unfortunately, those young men really knew how to jump and get that ball.

At half time, this reporter went into the moms' locker room for an interview.

Well, the moms were "hot and tired," but assured me that they had a new game plan up their sleeves. As I was leaving, they tried to bribe me into adding a few points to their score, but they didn't have enough money to influence me.

As the second half started, the boys were still leading; they easily stole that ball and showed no mercy on their poor mothers. At the start of the third quarter, the moms called in a special team — the dads — but, even with the help of the dads, the boys held the lead. When the game ended, the boys had scored 33 points to the moms' nine.

The moms who played were Linda Troia, Cathy Sovinski, Susan Hartz, Kathy Mular, Cheryl Char, Tonya Martin, Ann Stewart, Shannon Stewart (Ann's daughter), and Tang Denstedt. Cathy, Susan, Ann, Tang, and Kathy all scored points for their team.

A valiant effort was made, and great fun was had by all. □ one in need, and they should all be applauded for that.

The following is a partial list of the businesses that participated in the fund raiser (hopefully, I haven't left anyone out): the Polka-Dot Party Pantry, M&M Market, Memories, the Landing Strip, Bud's Hamburgers, Captain Nemo's, Daly's Drive-in Restaurant (which also donated 10% of one day's receipts), the Kozy Korner Cafe, Romulus Video, Romulus Auto Supply, Romulus Lanes, Stella's Restaurant, Romulus IGA, and Romulus House Restaurant.

What really upset several people was the fact that, as usual, and just as I said it would be, it was the residents and small-business people who did all the donating. This paper did not hear one word from any large company with donations of any sort, even after I made specific remarks about their lack of response in a previous issue.

You would think that the ones who are constantly asking us for tax abatements and other financial breaks would be some of the first to throw a few bucks in the kitty when the need arises. (Maybe that's why big companies get big and us little guys stay little.)

Anyway, we at this paper, along with Ron Brugger, the troops, and the support groups, would like to thank each and every person who donated their change and dollar bills, as well as all the businesses that participated in this effort. □

Hot Dog! It's Open!

By Dave Atkins

Now, I'm a feller with a heart of gold and the ways of a gentleman (so I've been told), and I can eat just about anything to my heart's content. But . . .

When it comes to Coney Islands, I become vicious and ornery, and many have even called me a pig.

For as many years as I can remember, I have always stopped in at the better-known Coney Island restaurants as often as I could, and I have even gone looking for them, on occasion.

Now, finally, Romulus has something in the line of so-called fast food that I can tolerate. . . . In fact, I actually love it!

Loose hamburgers!

What's a "loose hamburger," you ask? Well, it's a Coney Island without the Island (hot dog).

I go crazy just from the smell of these hamburgers on a hot-dog bun with chili and all the fixin's, plus what I add to them — you know, all the goodies like cheese, onions, ketchup, mustard, and an olive here and there. (Yes, it's true that my palate has no respect at all for my stomach.)

What's all this leading up to? Well, let me take the time to tell you.

First of all, I didn't call these people and ask them to advertise; they called me. I said, "Sure, what are you selling?"

When they told me they were opening a Coney Island restaurant, I got all excited.

"Wow," I exclaimed. "Are they any good?"

They assured me that they were, indeed, good, and offered to buy me lunch just to prove it.

"No," I said, "I don't do that. I'll come down to take pictures and sell you an ad if you want, but I will pay for whatever I eat so that I won't be obligated to you in anything that I write."

And that is exactly what I did. I ate there on their opening day, along with my wife, son, and daughter, and I paid just like everyone else.

Then, just to confirm my opinion, I went back the next day and tried something different.

Well, the food was excellent. My loose hamburger was the best I have ever eaten, and my wife raved about her Coney dog. (She's another Coney freak.)

My daughter had a corned-beef-and-Swiss sandwich and an order of chili-cheese fries. When I asked her how she liked her food, she told me it was "Bad to the bone!" (For those of you over 20, that means that it was exceptionally great.)

New contraceptive method — an advance in family planning

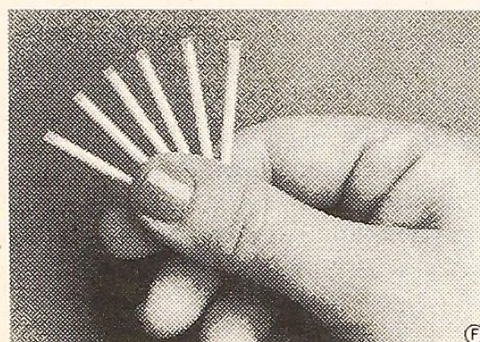

Throughout the ages women have been searching for a method of contraception that will complement and not complicate their lifestyles. The introduction of the Norplant System heralds a milestone in contraceptive options, allowing women to plan for up to five years of contraceptive protection.

The Norplant System is a reversible, five-year, low dose, progestin-only contraceptive allowing reliable protection and convenience in long-term family planning. The U.S. Food and Drug Administration has provided market clearance for the Norplant System in the United States. It will be marketed in the U.S. exclusively by Wyeth-Ayerst Laboratories. "Although the Norplant System may be used as a contraceptive option by many women of reproductive age, it is particularly suited for women who are considering the long-term contraceptive advantage of sterilization for themselves or their partners, yet would like the reversibility the Norplant System provides," says Dr. Marc W. Deitch, Vice President of Medical Affairs and Medical Director of Wyeth-Ayerst Laboratories.

The Norplant System is a long-term, reversible contraceptive with an average annual pregnancy rate over a five-year period of less than one percent. The Norplant System consists of six Silastic® capsules that are placed under the skin through a small incision in the upper arm in an office-based procedure which usually takes 10 to 15 minutes. The capsules release a continuous low dose of the synthetic hormone, Levonorgestrel, into the bloodstream. Protection from pregnancy is provided within 24 hours if the capsules are placed within the first seven days of a menstrual period. If a woman decides to have a child, the Norplant System can be removed and a woman will return to her previous level of fertility. If she wants to continue using the Norplant System after five years, a new set of capsules can be inserted at the same time the existing set is removed.

The Norplant System was developed by the Population Council, a nonprofit international research organization, and has been researched extensively for more than 20 years. More than 500,000 women in 46 countries have used the product. The United States is now the 17th country to release the Norplant System.

WHEN IMPLANTED, the Norplant System provides a five-year, low dose contraceptive allowing reliable protection and convenience in long-term family planning.

Romulus School Sports

From the A.D.

By Fred Coleman, CAA, Athletic Director, Romulus Community Schools

I would like to take this opportunity to thank those people who have worked so hard to make our fall and winter sports seasons so successful.

Obviously, the players and coaches have given their best and have accumulated an impressive 87-68 record for the season.

Behind the scenes, there are a number of people whose efforts are instrumental in these accomplishments, also, and to them we want to extend a special thanks.

This group includes Henry James and his excellent band, which provides both entertainment and spirit at our contests; J.C. Swanigan and his excellent night crew of custodians, who not only set up our facilities, but also keep the building looking nice for our guests and fans; Alan Abdo, who works extra hard to keep our fields and facilities in operable order; Chris Julveson and the crew who operate the School Store; and my steady work crew of Chuck Hughes, Lori Good, Ken Marth, Don Foley, Dan Stearn, Lance Knudson, Randy Root, and Richard Zavodsky.

A special thanks is also extended to Mr. Knudson's "regular" National Honor Society members who are here very early and often well after the games to set up and take down the concession stand. This year's crew was "the most dependable ever," according to Mr. Knudson, and their efforts are truly appreciated by myself and our fans. The 1991 crew consisted of Dennis Tessin, Dan Wood, Marci Tomchick, "Marci's Mom," Andy French, Melanie Johnson, Melanie Sundquist, and many others.

I cannot end a thank-you article without also thanking our fans for yet another season of great support. Our attendance was down this year, but those who came gave their all to show their appreciation to our athletes.

Once again, we were honored by the State of Michigan with two sportsmanship awards. These are awards given by the officials and work crews who evaluate our team, our coaches, and our fans on their behavior during the contests.

To be given the award is quite an honor and we currently have received four, thus showing the true character of our program and our community.

Thanks again for all of your support and I hope to see you all at our spring events, which begin April 9. □

Sports Update

RHS Wrestling

The wrestling season came to a close with the efforts of Dale Gehringer and Mike Scully at the State meet in Battle Creek on February 23.

"Neither of our guys did as well as we all had hoped," stated Head Coach Norman Butler, "but it was their first time at the 'big' meet and, no doubt, this year's experience for these two juniors will make them that much more prepared when they return next season."

Dale and Mike were co-captains of this year's 17-15 team, which contained no seniors.

"We are already looking forward to next year," stated Assistant Coach Bill Garland. "We have a solid team returning and all we need is some help in the heavier weight classes, which we hope to get from next year's football squad."

Mike Scully was recently named the February Athlete of the Month, and he and Dale Gehringer should be very proud of their efforts in leading this year's squad, as well as their own personal achievements.

Best of luck next season to the entire squad, and thanks for an excellent 1990-91 year.

RHS Volleyball

Overall: 34-14 League: 6-2

Recent victories over Adrian, Gibraltar Carlson, River Rouge, Clarenceville, Highland Park, Lincoln Park, and Wyandotte Mt. Carmel, combined with a lone loss in the semifinals of the Downriver Classic to Grosse Ile, gave the Eagles their third consecutive 30-game-winning season.

"Our three seniors who have played three years on the varsity as starters — Jennifer Daniel, Michele Scarrow, and Tammy Trubilowicz — have accumulated a record of 102 victories and only 34 losses," stated Coach Gail Coleman. "That says a lot for their work ethic, talent, and teammates. No doubt, we are going to miss these three, plus senior setter Brooke Hammers, senior back-line specialist Angie Slawinski, and senior front-line blocker/hitter Susan Molenda."

Numerous School records, on both team and individual levels, are going to be broken by this fine group of student athletes, and Coach Coleman will be announcing those records at the Winter Sports Banquet, to be held on Thursday, March 21, at 6 p.m. in the High School cafeteria.

Co-captains Michele Scarrow, sure to set a School record for service points that may never be broken, and Jennifer Daniel, School-record-holding setter, have led this year's team to accomplishments well beyond those expected by the coaching staff.

Angie Slawinski has combined with Michele and Tammy Trubilowicz to form the most solid defensive back-line that the Eagles have ever produced, while Sue Molenda took on the role as the Eagles "big" person at only 5'9".

"Susan was asked to do a lot in the middle for us," Coleman added, "especially with junior Charmaine Smith injured most of the season. She had to be our blocker against the other teams' big hitter quite often, and did a great job until her recent season-ending injury."

Having, no doubt, the best seasons of their careers were seniors Brooke Hammers and Tammy Trubilowicz.

Brooke combined with Jennifer to become what some have called the best setting combination in this area, but more impressive this season was Brooke's accomplishments at the net. Her blocking and power-hitting truly had a great deal to do with this year's success.

Tammy will finish second to Michele with over 280 service points this season to combine with her numerous point-saving digs on defense. Being named Athlete of the Month in January best explains the type of season that Tammy had in 1990-91.

No doubt two of the finest female athletes in recent Romulus history will end their volleyball careers in this year's tournament.

The 1991 Valedictorian, Michele Scarrow, will break a number of School records in both volleyball and softball before moving on to college. Michele's play in the back line will probably never be matched, as her quickness and anticipation led to her getting to shots that very few athletes could consider attempting to reach. Her firm serve puzzled opponents for three years and will give her a career record of service points that will be very difficult for a future Eagle to break. Her great serve also led to her becoming only the second Eagle ever to serve 15 consecutive points in a 15-0 win over Allen Park. Her talent and leadership will be sorely missed in next season's program.

Jennifer Daniel was recently named to the All-Tournament Team in the Downriver Classic and has excelled as the Eagle varsity setter for the past three seasons. Jen's quickness and ability to anticipate the opponents' moves will make her value to our program very difficult to replace. Upon graduation, she will have received 10 varsity letters in five different sports, which will set a School record that will be nearly impossible to break.

WW Urges Commitment to Health During National Nutrition Month

Thanks to Julie Wells for submitting the following information from Weight Watchers

March is National Nutrition Month, and Weight Watchers is urging Americans to set personal goals and adopt a more healthy lifestyle through proper diet, weight control, and regular activity.

"Recently, the U.S. Government established health objectives for all Americans, called "Healthy People 2000," explains Dr. George Christakis, Medical Director for Weight Watchers International, Inc. "One key objective is to reduce the proportion of the U.S. population that is overweight."

Explaining this objective, Christakis continues, "In recent years, we've discovered that obesity is a risk factor in nearly every major disease. The good news is that this is one risk factor that the individual can control."

However, Americans may need help in reaching this objective and controlling their weight. According to a National survey sponsored by Weight Watchers, while nearly two-thirds of Americans know they need to pay more attention to nutrition, and half believe they are overweight by an average of 23 pounds, they admit they need more practical knowledge in order to develop healthier eating habits.

In a public education program called "HealthWatch 2000," Weight Watchers will provide some of the help consumers need to make healthy changes in their eating habits and lifestyle choices. As part of the program, Weight Watchers has teamed up with the American Dietetic Association and developed a booklet called "Healthy Living For Life."

The booklet contains healthy-eating and weight-control tips, fitness tips, and advice on how to achieve a more healthy lifestyle. If you would like a free copy of this booklet, write to: Healthy Living for Life, Weight Watchers, P.O. Box 4383, Syosset, NY 11775-4883. □

Environmental concerns spawn new laundry, cleaning routines

Recently consumers have shown an overwhelming commitment to environmental issues. Increasing numbers of environmentally conscious consumers are taking steps to reduce their impact on our ecosystem by changing their washday and cleaning routines.

These consumers are adding ARM & HAMMER® Super Washing Soda detergent booster to their washing machines and using it for cleaning chores. Washing soda's multiple uses can help reduce the number of products bought and ultimately discarded. By adding washing soda to washloads, consumers may be able to reduce their use of laundry detergents while maintaining or even improving the cleaning action.

Washing soda is composed of sodium carbonate which is derived from a natural mineral, trona. Washing soda's natural properties make it great for cutting greasy dirt, neutralizing odors, and conditioning wash water. So it can help soap or detergent get clothes cleaner, whiter and fresher. Its natural properties make it a good household cleaner too.

Environmental organizations such as Greenpeace and Clean Water Action recommend using ½ cup of washing soda per gallon of hot water for removing tough greasy dirt from almost any type of surface except aluminum. Inside the house, it cleans rangetops, oven racks, bathtubs, toilets, bathroom tiles, floors, painted walls and woodwork, and venetian blinds. One box of washing soda can replace up to seven special-purpose cleaners from your grocery list.

Outdoors, washing soda works well for cleaning barbecue grills and utensils, and garden tools. Just scrub with washing soda, water and a stiff-bristled brush, and then rinse and dry. Washing soda makes fast work of cleaning garbage pails, and plastic or wrought-iron furniture.

Not only is washing soda convenient and inexpensive, it is also an all-natural cleaning alternative. So next time you face the chore of grocery shopping, make your life easier. A box of ARM & HAMMER Super Washing Soda can save you the expense and the bother of buying a long list of special-purpose cleaners.

Search under way for child heroes

If you know a child who has performed a deed that showed courage and compassion, such as helping others achieve personal goals, a lifesaving feat, community service, or an environmentally concerned activity, he or she could be one of the children honored by the G.I. Joe Search for Real American Heroes.

One child from each state will receive an official G.I. Joe Real American Hero Medal of Commendation. From the state award recipients, 10 national award recipients and their parents will receive a trip to Washington, D.C. where they will visit historic sites and be honored by government dignitaries at award ceremonies.

In 1987, 10 children were honored by President Reagan in a special White House ceremony. In 1989, the children met privately with Justice Sandra Day O'Connor of the U.S. Supreme Court and were honored at an awards dinner with Congressional representatives and other dignitaries.

Hasbro, Inc., the world's largest toy maker and sponsor of the program, is now accepting nominations for boys

New Seat Belt Law

All information submitted by James A. Kosteva, State Representative for the 37th District

It's been proven that seat belts, when used properly, can significantly reduce injuries and deaths in car accidents. This is especially important for young passengers in vehicles involved in accidents.

Under current law, infants under the age of one must ride in an approved car safety seat, and children ages one to four must ride in an approved safety seat in the front seat of the vehicle or be "buckled up" in the back seat. A new law, sponsored by Representative Jim Kosteva (D-Canton), will require all children (to age 16) to use seat belts. The law will take effect on April 1.

Unfortunately, a recent University of Michigan survey shows that children age four to 15 have one of the lowest safety-belt-use rates (about 38.5%) of all age groups.

and girls, ages 5-12, who have performed noteworthy deeds within their communities.

"As we enter the third year of the G.I. Joe Search for Real American Heroes, we are proud to have the opportunity to honor these courageous young people for their extraordinary actions," said Wayne Charness, vice president of corporate communications for Hasbro.

Parents, teachers, youth group leaders or any adult may nominate a child by submitting a description, up to 500 words, of the child's heroic deed which occurred between Jan. 1, 1990 and June 30, 1991. If available, include documentation such as an eyewitness account, newspaper clipping, radio cassette or television video tape.

Saturday Youth Recreation

A Youth Recreation Program will be held at Wick Elementary School every Saturday through April 13. The sessions for children of elementary and junior high age are scheduled for 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.; sessions for high school students are set for 2 to 4 p.m. (Romulus Schools ID must be shown.) The cost of each session is 50¢ for elementary and junior high students, and $1 for high school students. (Note: Any damage to basketball rims or other school property will end the program.)

Drop-in Programs

The Recreation Department's Drop-in Programs are held according to the following schedule: Co-ed Volleyball (Mondays from 6:30 to 9 p.m. at North Junior High; $1/evening), Teen Basketball (Wednesdays from 6:30 to 9 p.m. at Halecreek; 75¢/evening), and Men's Basketball (Thursdays from 6:30 to 9 p.m. at North Junior High; $1/evening). For more information, call the Recreation Office at 942-6852.

How many times have you travelled Middle Belt Road? Just in case you're not familiar with its location, it's the north-south road just east of Metro Airport. Middle Belt intersects Pennsylvania, Eureka, Northline, Goddard, Wick, I-94 entrance and exit ramps, Ecorse, Beverly, and Van Born roads, as well as many smaller streets. Along Middle Belt Road, there are dozens of businesses, several homes and apartments, and one of the busiest access routes to and from Metro Airport. During rush-hour traffic periods, the traffic volume almost reaches its capacity. All of this leads to — what else? — traffic accidents.

A very high percentage of the traffic accidents in Romulus occur on Middle Belt. Three of our 18 fatalities, several of our serious-injury accidents, and hundreds of the property-damage accidents occurred on this well-travelled main artery of our city.

Quilting Classes

Quilting classes for people of all skill levels are held from 7 to 9:30 p.m. on Thursdays in the Recreation Building. The fee is $1 per evening; preregistration is not required.

Ceramics Classes

Day (1 to 3 p.m.) and evening (6 to 8 p.m.) Ceramics Classes are held on Mondays at the Recreation Building. The cost for each class is $1 for residents and $1.50 for nonresidents, and the firing cost is one-half the greenware fee. (Senior citizens receive free firing in the day class.) Preregistration is not required.

TRAFFIC STOP

WATCH OUT FOR "THE OTHER GUY"

Why? Several factors are involved here, just as there are on any road you travel on anywhere. The majority of the accidents occur at intersections. Disobeying red lights, following too closely, failing to yield, and speed contribute to most of the incidents. Vehicle equipment failure (usually due to poor or improper maintenance), pedestrian violations, weather conditions, alcohol, driver inexperience, unfamiliarity, and just plain not paying attention are some other contributing factors. One of the chief causes is failing to yield, especially at Middle Belt and Wick. Large-truck traffic comprises a large percentage of the road use. Time after time, crashes have occurred because drivers were unable to see other traffic due to large trucks. Due to good defensive driving by other drivers, many crashes were averted.

Traffic accidents will never end, no matter how many articles I write; no matter how many times I say, "Watch out for the other guy," "Drive defensively," or "Don't drink and drive." As silly and simple as they sound, THEY WORK. □ sible to break. Jennifer's total athletic ability will make her a great loss to our program in volleyball, as well as to our other team sports, also.

In the State District Tournament, held at Romulus on Saturday evening, the Romulus Eagles defeated a solid Garden City team in the semifinals (8-15, 15-7, 15-11). The solid defensive play of Michele Scarrow, Jennifer Daniel and Jenny McClure, and the serving of Scarrow, Angie Slawinski and Tammy Trubilowicz, allowed the Eagles a shot at the District Championship.

Their opponent was Wayne Memorial, who had defeated Belleville in the semifinals by scores of 15-2 and 15-3, and it was a battle of the front line versus the defense.

Although Michele Scarrow, Angie Slawinski, Jennifer Daniel, and Jenny McClure did everything they could to dig up the offense of the Zebras, it was just too powerful, and Wayne won the match by scores of 15-3 and 15-9.

The Eagles finished the 1991 season with a 34-14 record and a number of accomplishments of which they should be proud.

Great season, ladies!

RHS Basketball

Varsity: 11-9

JV: 10-10

The Romulus varsity basketball program heads into the State High School Basketball Tournament at 6:30 p.m. on Tuesday at Belleville High School to play against the Taylor Kennedy Eagles.

A victory in Tuesday's game will lead to playing in the finals on Friday evening at 7 p.m. Romulus fans are encouraged to get to Belleville early, as the final game on Friday is expected to be a sellout. All tickets are $3.

Torrey Mills is averaging over 23 points per game and has been joined by senior John Dinkins in leading the offense in recent games. Abu Hamilton and sophomore Tyzedd Bowles have been taking charge of the rebounds for the Eagles and senior Izell Watkins has been the floor leader, showing his prowess on both offense and defense.

"Belleville has to be the favorite going into the Districts," stated Coach Chris Molloy, "mainly because the tournament is being played in their gym. They are an excellent team and I even think they are currently rated in the top 10 in the State, but no one expected us to defeat them last year, either. We cannot look past Taylor Kennedy, as Mike Baum (son of former Romulus A.D. Ed Baum) does an excellent job of game preparation with his teams. If we can beat Kennedy on Tuesday, then I really think we will be ready for the Friday contest."

A District victory will lead to the Regional play at Wyandotte High School on Tuesday, March 12.

We wish the Eagles good luck on their quest for a championship and thank them for all the excellent excitement throughout the 1990-91 season.

Yancy Yarborough, Derek Hamlin, Robb Thompson, Bob Bergeron, and

Roger Williams have led the Romulus junior varsity team on a four-game winning streak to finish the 1990-91 season at 10-10.

"This group is going to really make a difference in the next two years," stated Marcus Harris. "Their play, combined with the underclassmen on the varsity, is sure to make for some excellent basketball for our fans next season. Mike Kowalski and myself could not be any happier with how these young athletes have progressed, both in the classroom and on the floor!"

Great job, JV. . . . Good luck next season. □

PA 25: What's It All About?

By Art McPharlin, Administrative Assistant to the Superintendent, Romulus Community Schools

Ten months ago, the Michigan Legislature passed education law to help schools and school districts improve their quality of education in several areas. The law requires all school buildings and school districts to design and implement a three-to-five-year school improvement plan. Each of our schools has formally initiated a school improvement plan and the District has a formal District-wide improvement process.

Every school in the State will be required to become accredited. Accreditation includes meeting certain State standards related to organization, curriculum, staff certification, facilities, and school improvement. Schools that do not meet minimum standards may be closed.

The State is also developing a Core Curriculum in the areas of language arts, mathematics, science, social studies, art, health, and physical education. School districts may adopt the State's model for their Core Curriculum or develop their own. The curriculum offered must be tied to student outcomes. Skills that students must master are tested in an objective way to insure validity.

The last requirement of PA 25 is that each school must prepare, and report at a public meeting, its status for the following areas:

- 1) its school improvement plan,
- 2) student achievement results,
- 3) student retention and dropout rate,
- 4) quality of special programs,
- 5) percentage of parents who attend parent-teacher conferences,
- 6) accreditation status of the school, and
- 7) the implementation plan for the core curriculum.

Our school district has started procedures to fulfill the requirements of PA 25. We will keep the public informed about this most complex education law. □

So I tried the corned beef without Swiss. It was bad to the bone!

Other menu items sampled included a Greek salad, baklava, and apple pie, and everything was delicious.

Where is this marvelous place? Maybe I shouldn't tell you because you might go there and eat everything they have, and there wouldn't be any more loose hamburger left for me!

Oh, well, if you insist.

The name of the "bad to the bone" place is Metro Coney Island. It's located at Merriman and Ecorse roads in the beautiful new shopping strip at that corner, and, from the looks of it so far, business is already booming. (I may have trouble selling them another ad.)

Anyway, my unbiased advice is this: Forget all the other places you've ever heard about when it comes to Coney Islands, and go directly to the Metro Coney Island. No joke, friends, the food is great, and I have never lied to you about a restaurant yet! They have a wide variety of Greek and deli foods, and they open at about 6 a.m. to serve you breakfast. Best of all, the prices seem to be right (and you all know that I can't afford anything very expensive).

When you stop in there, tell them I told you about it. It won't get you anything free, but just think how famous I'll be after my name is mentioned so many times! □

A NEW DEAL FOR WESTERN WAYNE COUNTY

I intend to take a new approach in Western Wayne county. I will work out in the district with State Senator Bill Faust and State Representatives Jim Kosteva and Lynn Owen to improve Western Wayne County.

This new approach will involve the state, county, local governments and citizens committees to attack our road, drain, landfill and airport noise problems --- problems that should have been solved years ago.

If our county leaders in Detroit don't care about Western Wayne County then let's pull together at home and get Lansing to help us.

Letters to the Editor

For 21 years, Express Tool & Die Company has had the benefit of being served by the finest fire department in our state: the Romulus Fire Department.

Twice, the Fire Department has come to our aid. The first time, in 1984, they saved our company from physical destruction; most recently, they saved our patriotism.

During this time of crisis, when Americans were rallying around the flagpole, we were unable to "fly our colors." The Romulus Fire Department came to our rescue, just like the heroes in the story books I read as a child. They fixed, hooked, and restored the symbol of our patriotism once more.

Chief William Greenslait, Captain E. Debruhl, and firefighter/EMT J. Thiede from Romulus Fire Station #2 are fine examples of the great heroic tradition of America, and the Express Tool & Die Company and its members would like to salute them and thank them for their support of many years.

Larry H. Wentz, General Manager
Express Tool & Die Company

This letter is to inform you of an incident that occurred in your city on February 6, 1991.

I was returning from Metro Airport after completing a business trip, and had occasion to visit your city, where I was pleasantly surprised by your incredibly fast and efficient Romulus Police Department.

Ten minutes after I had stopped for lunch, my vehicle was burglarized. The window was smashed and my briefcase stolen from my locked car in the middle of the afternoon.

This is an unfortunate and unpleasant experience, usually ending in disaster for the victim.

Thanks to the involvement of a witness and the immediate and effective response of your police department, this tax-paying victim did get his money's worth.

I was amazed by the Romulus Police Department, which not only located, but also apprehended the culprits within the hour!

At the time of the initial report, no knowledge of my briefcase or its contents was available to the police. As the police pursued the perpetrators, more information became available to them that they were able to use and act upon. This resulted in the fact that the suspects were apprehended and a good portion of the contents of my briefcase were recovered. Had there been any delay, this already painful incident would have been much worse and my losses would have been substantially larger.

I had no reason to believe in a favorable outcome as the victim of a crime in the Detroit area. The Romulus Police have restored my faith in police officers. They exercised excellent judgment and resourcefulness in identifying the suspects and apprehending them.

The police officers minimized the effects of this matter on me by continuing and expediting the recovery of the stolen property. Any time delay would have eliminated the possibility of a recovery.

It was definitely refreshing to see the efforts that were made on behalf of the victim.

I wish to thank the witness who came forward, all of the officers involved, and especially Officer Kenneth Landstrom for an excellent job well done.

Sincerely,
Richard J. McCulloch

As the owner of the Polka-Dot Party Pantry, a party store near Five Points, I have advertised in this paper for more than two years. My ads state that the store is "American Owned and Operated" — a true fact.

Since the advent of Operation Desert Shield, persons unknown have been phoning my store and my home, calling my employees and me bigots (that was the nicest word), etc., and accusing me of making money from the Desert Shield and Desert Storm t-shirts and sweat shirts that I sell in the store. (If these people came into the store, they would find out that the $2 profit I make on the shirts is donated to the local support group and the U.S.O.)

To the people who make these calls to my employees and myself: Please make sure of your accusations, and then come to see me personally about them. Don't take your anger out on my employees.
